LEGEND

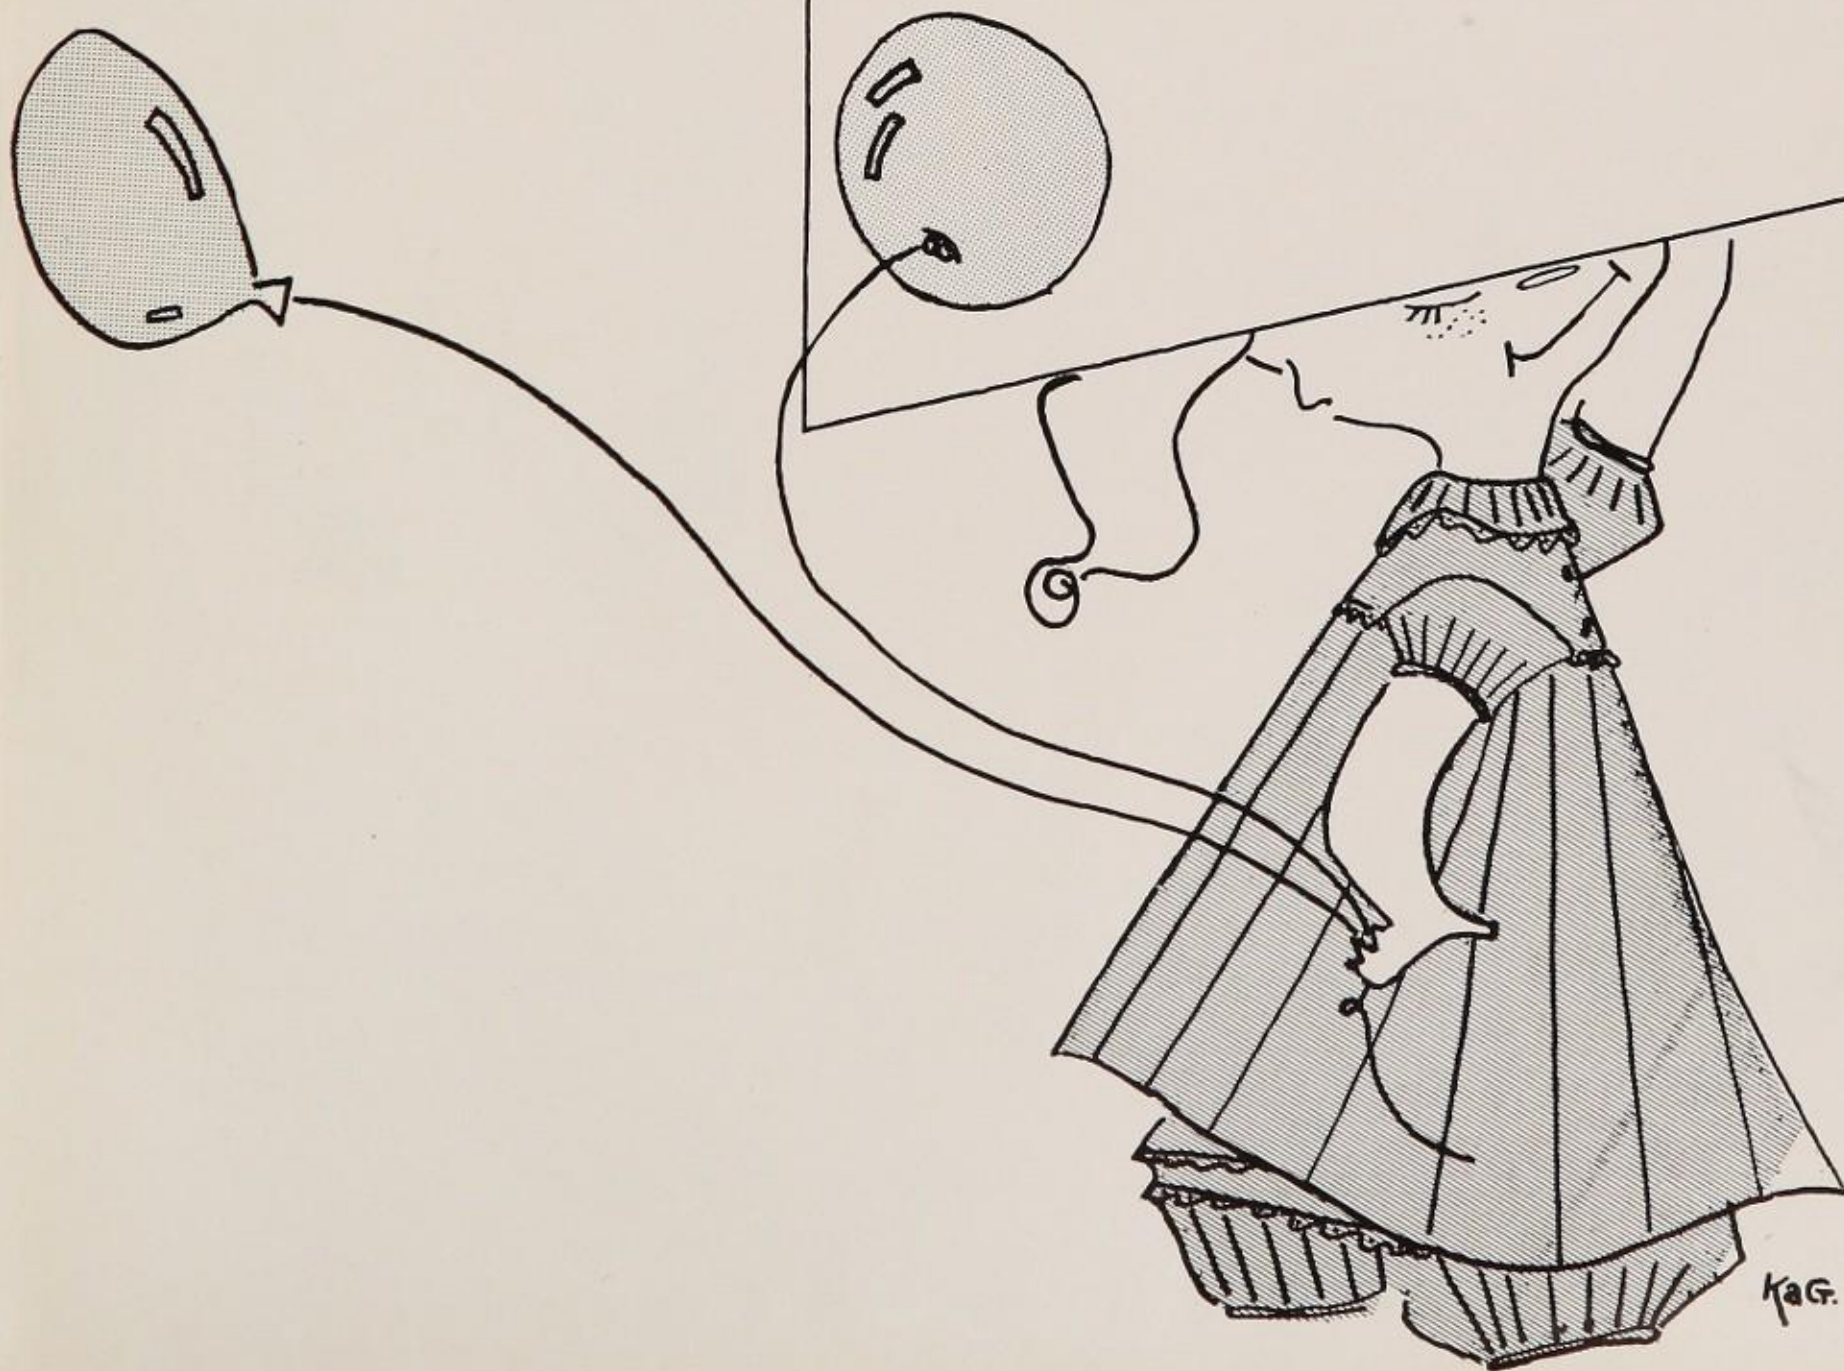

K.G.

*A bright sun beams down
On the fluttering banners
That dance on the runaway breeze.
Ecstatic children stare wide-eyed,
At the clouds of cotton candy.
The ferris wheel turns dizzily
Under the story book clouds,
And screams of delight float up
From the speedy roller coaster.
The barker shouts into his megaphone,
Out to the waiting audience,
"Ladies and gentlemen, step right
this way!"
And the crowd surges forward.
A child cries as a balloon floats
out of sight
And the barker calls again.
"Ladies and gentlemen! Step this way!
The show is about to begin!"*

We gratefully dedicate this book to our principal,

MRS. MARY C. BUDA

Dear Graduates of the Class of June 1956:

On graduation day everyone will wish you success and happiness. Parents, friends, and teachers will join in all good wishes for your welfare. Many people will think primarily of your material advancement. Many will measure your success in terms of the money, the position, and the possessions you may acquire over the years. There are, however, other characteristics of a happy, successful life, and it is these I wish for you.

I hope that each day of your life you will find joy in some simple thing about you; the wind, the sun, the cool rain. There is a bit of beauty everywhere for each of us to enjoy. It may be only a display in a florist's window. Stop for a minute and drink in the color and the fragrance. Go on refreshed. Carry this bit of loveliness home with you.

Make a point each day of saying something friendly, encouraging, or pleasant to someone. There is a twofold joy in such a practice. You will make someone else happy, and, therefore, you will be happy. Happiness is contagious. It is also a real responsibility. How much happiness do you contribute daily to the atmosphere of your home? How often do you bring a responsive smile to someone's lips and a friendly reply to what you say? Everyone wants to be liked. Everyone wants to be friendly. That person is successful whose life is characterized by a friendly liking for people.

You will be happy if you refrain from being a worrier. Think through your problems. Come to a decision. Then stand by your decision. If it is necessary to change your decision, do so, but do so without constantly fretting and worrying. Have the courage to act decisively.

Accept the fact that work is a necessary part of everyone's life. Decide to like your work. There can be joy in working at anything and in doing it well. The lazy loafer is never a truly happy person.

Begin now to plan for your next four or five years, especially if what you are doing now is not what you hope to do eventually. We all have to serve a form of apprenticeship, no matter what our work may be. While doing so, we can plan and prepare for the future. In this way we can accept the present in a happier frame of mind. We know that later on we can make a change because we have planned and prepared for it. Engage, also, in a hobby or activity apart from your present occupation. Do not depend upon one thing in life for inspiration and joy.

If you can direct yourself along these lines; if you can find a little beauty about you daily; if you can share this beauty with others; if you can say something kind daily which will give happiness to others; if you can stop being fretful and worrisome; if you can make decisions and stand by them; if you can take joy in your present work and at the same time prepare for the future, then you will be a happy, successful person. And that is what I wish for each of you. May your life be a happy one. May you bring happiness to others.

Affectionately, your principal,

Mary C. Buda

Grade Advisers

Dear Boys and Girls,

As you go forth to meet your next life experience, my sincerest wishes attend you. May the good lessons you have learned at Lafayette serve you well. May you have happy memories of your high school life and the pride that belongs to a job well done. A teacher's deepest prayer is that she has helped, in even a small way, to make a boy or girl a better man or woman, and that something she has taught will give strength when it is needed most. That is my prayer now. I am grateful for the part I have had in your growing up. I hope you will long remember me as your friend and teacher.

May God bless you all.

Your Grade Adviser,
VERA DUFORT

Dear Boys and Girls,

Undoubtedly, you are eagerly awaiting the completion of your high school career, and looking forward to your entrance into the adult world. May you carry along with you the ambitions and friendliness that you have shown at Lafayette!

Today, a world wrought with social, political, and spiritual unrest, looks to you for leadership. In the hearts of people of your generation lies the hope of the world.

May you find that an increasing amount of your energy is being dedicated to friendships, old and new, and to a widening search for those simple things of life to which youth is so often blind.

I congratulate you on your accomplishments and trust that the future holds in store for each of you contentment, happiness, and the fulfillment of cherished ideals.

Your Grade Adviser,
AGNES E. O'ROURKE

LAFAYETTE HIGH SCHOOL

*Time of parting has come.
 Words do not fill the gap.
 But quietly, in our hearts—
 "Lafayette, we cannot forget you.
 Maroon and White, thanks for the light
 You shed in a wondering mind.
 I now see the true self you helped me to find.
 Is there a way
 To throw your arms around your ideal
 When you have realized it?
 Or to shake the hands
 Of those responsible for the wakening
 Of your tomorrow?
 The dawn of a new day has broken.
 A day spawned by a starlit night
 Which Lafayette, you bore us through.
 Lighting the paths we each must follow
 To our destinations anew."*

MR. J. GRADY

As I think back through the years, I find two bits of advice worth passing on. First, remember always to aim high, planning well for the future as you do so. Then, never take leave of your sense of humor; for that, above all, will help you immeasurably, in facing both your successes and your near successes.

This year marks the parting of the ways. Some paths lead directly to the world of work. Other roads, for some, extend to the exciting world of higher learning; but all lead to the task of making a living. In this we wish you success.

May you also give thought and energy to the making, not only of a good living, but of a better life. May those whose lives touch yours find in you a spirit of understanding and good will, and a readiness to help and share.

We hope that through the friends you have made, the activities you have engaged in, the experiences you have shared, Lafayette has served as a stepping stone into that better life.

MRS. M. ROSS

MR. D. POCI

No one can tell what the future holds for you — tragedy, joy, wealth, poverty, fame or scorn. I sincerely hope that we, your teachers, have helped prepare you to face that future with abiding faith, courage and perseverance.

May God shower upon each and every one of you His choicest blessings!

MISS D. HECHT

I am happy to have this opportunity to congratulate you and to wish you happiness and success in your future undertakings.

May the friendships that you have formed here grow stronger with the years and may you always bring credit to yourself, your family, your school and your country.

MRS. G. WARSHAUER

Two quotations I have come across recently seem so apt, I would like to leave them with you.

It was Benjamin Franklin who said, "Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life is made of."

And like Ulysses, I would like you to be, "... strong in will. To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

My sincere best wishes for success for each of you.

Doorway

Step right up folks! Step right up and see history unfold, and all for the price of one cafeteria token! What a bargain friends! You can't afford to miss the gayest, flashiest sight at the Senior Fair. It's the stupendous "Lafayette Wax Museum."

"Ladies and Gentlemen: Just follow me to Exhibit One. On your right you see models of awkward little green things holding up odd looking tickets. Don't shrink back in horror. They were you! In the beginning you were these Lafayette Freshmen holding passes to the swimming pool on the fifth floor, paper stretchers and free lunch passes.

Ah, a change of scene, let us view Exhibit Two. In the showcase up ahead you'll see lovely Rosalie Greenberg receiving her first crown as Carnival Queen. To your right are pictures of Lonny Mager and Linda Schmukler, Freshman grade representatives.

Will everyone please turn the corner to your left. Here is Exhibit Three. Surprised? You are now surrounded by relics of your Sophomore year. Look up there. It's a copy of Lafayette's first Guide Book. The guide sure came in handy in deciphering the maze that Lafayette seemed to you all. Carnival confetti seems to have taken the form of election tags falling over the impressive figures of Stanley Gardner, Lenny Fleishman, Rollie Goldman and Toby Fleishman who'd been elected grade reps.

In this next showcase is a birthday cake with the number 15 on it. Lafayette celebrated its fifteenth anniversary in your sophomore year. What a year that was for football. To your right is the football which was used in the games that made Lafayette champs. In the case on your left is a baton and program from the concert which was, as usual, a great success. I see you remember little Alice, who liked Lafayetteland so much that she decided to stay and become a Soph. Your spirit and fire were a vital part of that, your first Sing!

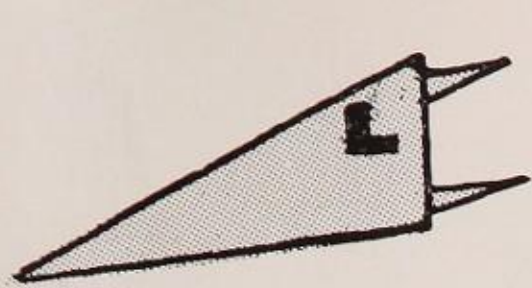

Ladies and Gentlemen: Walk straight ahead to that wax model of the set of "Growing Pains," the May 1954 varsity show, which I'm sure no one will ever forget having seen.

Now look up at the portrait of Dr. Oswald, first principal of Lafayette, who will always be remembered in the hearts of all his students.

Just about that time all you hard workers were elected to Junior Arista, of which Lenny Fleishman and Myrna Katz became the leaders.

To History

Please follow the maroon carpet to the elevator that is awaiting our group. Don't crowd now. You'll all get in. Going-up: 2nd. floor: Straight ahead for Junior Hall. A new leader came to watch over Lafayette that year. It was your beloved Mrs. Graham, whose picture you'll see on the wall to your left. Rollie Goldman, Lenny Fleishman, Myrna Katz and Peter Shaw, represented you at their first Brooklyn Borough council meeting, that October. That sign announces Dec. 16, 1955. Everyone remembers that night when the great Junior Showboat marched proudly down the aisles of the Lafayette auditorium. On the stand to your right is a wax model of your school library with books on the tables to be viewed and bought. That was Lafayette's first Book Fair, which all of you enjoyed and profited from.

In the next showcase is a plaque engraved with the stirring phrase; "The Birth of Archon" March, 1955. Archon made certain that the halls of Lafayette were well guarded for the safety of the students. To your right is a pair of roller skates, a memento of the skating party held at Park Circle. It appeared as if everybody took to wheels that night.

The coming of May meant Varsity Time was approaching and so "Stage Door" came to Lafayette. What a show!

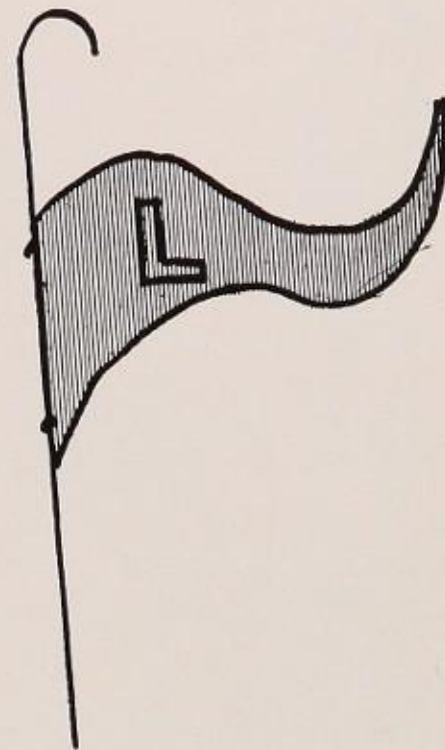

By June '55 the first "Code of Behavior" was completed. Here is the original copy preserved forever in a special glass case.

Our principal, Mrs. Graham gave everyone a pleasant surprise when she was wed to Mr. Buda, chairman of the Foreign Language Department. In the case to your left are some souvenirs of their honeymoon tour through Europe.

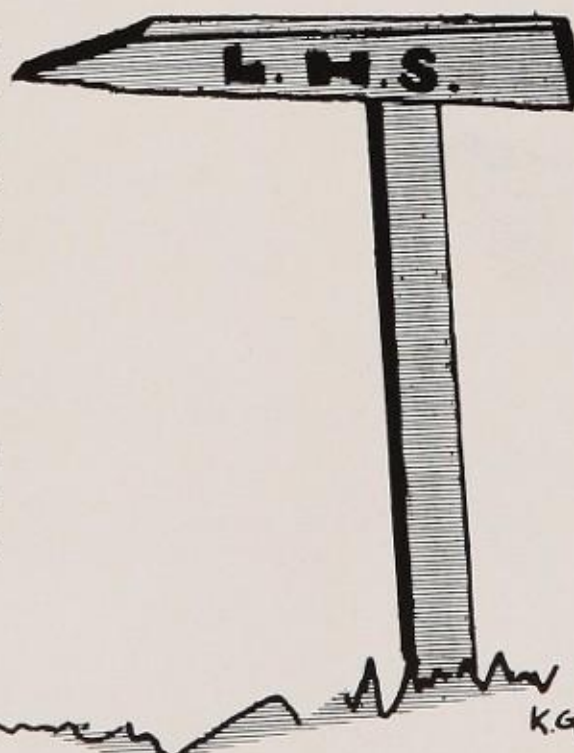

We prefer to call the next section of this hall the Athletic Hall of Fame, as your Junior year saw the Lafayette sports world dominated by fellow classmates. Joe Lentini was golfing like Ben Hogan. On that wall hangs the plaque presented to Lafayette's Cinderella Basketball Team and next to it a badge proclaiming "Brooklyn Champs for Soccer."

Now on your right ladies and gentlemen you see the symbol of the senior age, the boon to every high school would-be graduate. It's the one and only Regents Review Book.

Follow me down this passageway to the elevator. We're on our way to the Hall of Seniors. Before we enter, take a look above the elevator and you will see in lights the names of some of the greatest officers the G.O. has ever had. They are President, Stanley Gardner; Vice-President, Alan Ades; Treasurer, Elaine Handsman; Secretary, Roberta Novak and Chief Justice of the Student Court, Walter Orlinsky.

K.G.

Everybody in now. Going up! All out and to your left. We are approaching the main attraction of the show folks—the Senior Class of 1956. You finally made it. This was your year!

What's this? On the wall there's an American flag, but it has 49 stars. Your Senior Sing made Lafayette the 49th state in the Union. What a night that was when the judges announced the winning class.

You won! The Senior Class of 1956 went down in history as the 49th State of the Union!

Ladies and gentlemen: If you'll just turn to the table at the wall, you will see a wax model of the set from "Time Out for Ginger," the 1956 Varsity Show. "Ginger," a comedy about a teenage girl who plays football, was naturally a complete sellout. Judy Siskin, Diana Bakst, Leonard Fleishman, Fred Mednick and Roy Green will long be remembered for their glowing performances.

The life of a Senior wasn't all play though. To remind you of a few woes: in the showcase ahead you will see the Brownstein (and Weiner) Bible, and a wax seal to remind you of all those you broke when opening the packages for the Merit Scholarship, College Boards, State Scholarship, United Nations, and even the Betty Crocker Exams!

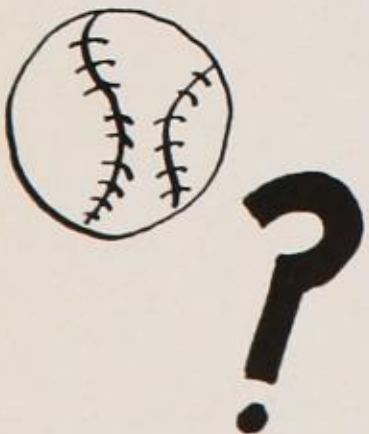

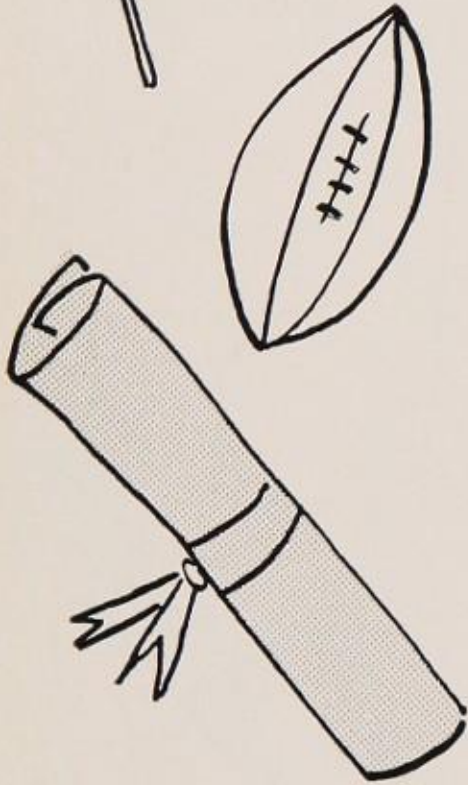

The placement office that year was always filled with Seniors! There were Seniors who wanted to start in their future jobs, Seniors who hoped to fill up their pockets with some extra change, and more Seniors who just liked work. Possible???

In the next corridor you'll see the latest from the fashion center of Brooklyn, a model of the cafeteria with the New Look! Under the guidance of Mr. Wohlbach, and with the help of Betty Heisman, Elizabeth Small, and Kayla Gerstman, your Lafayette lunchroom was transformed into a pint-sized paradise.

To your left is something very special, something reserved only for Seniors. I see you recognize it! Who could ever forget the blackboard with the Music Class Marks on it in room 301? You will always remember the proud notes that sounded forth from Mrs. Warshaw's Senior Music Classes.

As we approach the last case you will see, under the caption of In Memoriam, a Cap and Diploma. Senior Year with its exams, Prom, graduation pictures, and wonderful times had come to an end; with it your four years at Lafayette.

... And as it was closing time for those wonderful years of high school, it is also time now for the carnival tents to be folded for the night. Well, that's it folks. Glad you could come!

THE SING SONG—

Sophomore

*Sophomores are proud,
We know that we're grand,
We're just as old as Lafayette Land.
15 years ago, you see,
Lafayette started, so did we!
Dear Mr. Stork we think you're O.K.
We were delivered just the right day.
We were born with Lafayette
And, we are the best class yet!*

Junior

*Here comes the Show Boat, The Junior Show Boat,
Proudly, loudly, gaily, marching along.
Our tunes are happy, our spirits snappy
Struttin' with a smile and singing a song.
See us marching along,
Boosting our show with a song.
We'll have a great show, real blow,
Come down to our Show Boat,
Our Junior class Show Boat.
We've got songs just for you,
Some songs gay and some blue.
So step right up, folks,
Come and join our Show Boat,
Come and join our Show Boat, today.*

Senior

*The country said we couldn't make it
They said our goals were much too high.
A state we are, soon we'll be great,
A mighty addition to the big "48".
Hip, hip hooray for Lafayette High School
We're in the union to stay.
So give a great big cheer
For the high school of the year,

Wheel of Fortune Breaks;

This eventful day began when Joe Lafayette, Sr., master of odd occurrences, wandered into the booth that houses the magnificent Wheel of Fortune. The Wheel is the only one of its kind in the world and is the gift of the Senior Class of 1956 to Lafayette High School. True to his Lafayette training, Joe took a chance on Number 56, the symbol of the world's finest Senior class. The wheel whirled round and round, faster and faster, emitting gleaming maroon and white sparks. But suddenly the wondrous wheel slipped from its axle. It flew out into the crowd!

Screaming people scattered. Catastrophe threatened. Death leered. Out of the chaos emerged calm, unruffled FRED MEDNICK, the famous detective. "Never fear," he exclaimed. "I shall discover the reason for this grave accident."

Setting to work, he sent for MARION CAMPO, the famous nuclear physicist, who had just been awarded the Nobel Prize for a new Theory of Remote Relatives by Marriage. But even Marion, who had received her early training under Mr. Harry Schnapp in Lafayette, failed to solve the mystery. "Its basis is friction," she said.

Fred was undaunted. He would look elsewhere for assistance! He enlisted MYRNA KATZ, LYNN HOLLANDER and EDYTHE HAENDEL, the Pulitzer Prize winning journalists. They contacted experts from all over the world, who were flown to the fair by DAVID SCHATZ, ace of the airways.

Still overawed by the speed of their flight, LINDA SCHMUKLER and RITA MEYER, gym teachers extraordinary, tackled the problem with all their strength. Heading a squad of Junior Coaches, resplendent in maroon uniforms, they turned the entire carnival area inside out, in the best spirit of Mrs. Leolya Reid and the Lafayette Health Education Department. LEONARD FLEISHMAN, who had formerly been known only as a leader of choruses, now turned his talents to leading the search. But his failure was announced in melancholy tones by BARBARA GOLDBERG and PAUL SORVINO, Oscar winners for the past five years.

PAUL VEGODA, editor of Sports Slants Illustrated, spoke up. "I can ask the fans to contribute to a collection for a new wheel," he said. "I can be in charge and hold the money," added ELAINE HANDSMAN, Wall Street tycoon.

WALTER ORLINSKY, the successful politician, after consulting with eminent lawyer, BARRY DEUTSCH, exclaimed, "I can use my political influence to make sure we get a good replacement."

"But will it be as good as the old one?" asked STANLEY GARDNER, Secretary General of the United Worlds. "If we could get the General Assembly to subsidize . . ."

He was interrupted by a rather noisy conference of SANDRA EISENSTEIN, JUDITH SISKIN, and KAYLA GERSTMAN, three artists who had been assigned to the project. They had hit a snag in their plans, and SHEILA WALDINGER, first woman president of the United States, had been consulted. ROBERTA ERLICHMAN and CAROLE TREMAINE, teachers of England's Royal Family, were offering their advice. MYRNA NEURINGER, now the editor of Life, was covering this special conference with her chief photographer, ROBERT BLOOM. However, they came to the conclusion that the old Wheel of Fortune was the best possible one.

PERLE BESSERMAN, NATALIE ZEGANS, ALAN ADES, ARLENE GALKA and BLOSSOM HIRSCH, giants in the entertainment field, who had been out raising money, were notified of the decision to concentrate on repairing the old wheel.

BURTON BAUMAN, although a very busy engineer, and GENE BRIENZA, who had replaced Frank Lloyd Wright as America's foremost architect, volunteered to help mend it. They were informed by psychiatrist, MIKE POLSKY, who had been snooping around the wheel, that he had discovered the cause of the trouble. "The wheel has a screw missing," he cried!

Immediately the search was on for a suitable substitute. STANFORD FASS volunteered a string from his Stradivarius, but it was no use. "I don't think a suitable substitute can be found on Earth," said Joe Lafayette, Sr. sadly.

"Don't worry," called JUDY BARBARASCH, the famous science fiction author, as she volunteered to lead an exploration to the planet Matalonia, named after ROBERT MATALON, the famous astronomer.

Volunteers to join her came running into the square. IRA GOLD, world renowned inventor, wanted to show his latest gimmick, an automatic calculator specializing in analyzing all phases of Nothing.

However, the trip turned out to be unnecessary after all. For suddenly STEVE PESSIN, football in hand and flanked by DENNIS MACKIN and BILL APPEL, borrowed a bobby pin from VIVIAN LOITERMAN'S hair. Triumphant he placed it where the screw had been, and the Wheel of Fortune turned again!

As the throngs of happy people surged back to the booth, the people who had worked so valiantly in the search, members of the Senior Class of 1956, went their separate ways, leaving another tremendous victory recorded in the pages of the immortal Lafayette News.

Overheard in Passing

"How about that '52 football team! I was only a freshman, but I remember those games. It was the best team the P.S.A.L. ever saw. Why, all eleven starters made all-city in some way or other."

"I disagree, it's the 1953 over all."

"What do you know? You're only a soccer fan!"

"Whom are you calling a soccer fan?"

"Easy fellows. I think I'll solve the problem. The 1955 team had no peers. Led by captains Steve Pessin, Bill Appel, and Dennis Mackin they won five games. True, they lost two games, but they played stiffer opposition. Steve, Bill, Jerry Hershman and Rudy Pasterczyk made some form of all-city, and everybody respected Jerry Weitzen, Walter Schneider and Sergio Campagnola."

* * * * *

"I think that Ralph Dreyer was the best player we had at Lafayette in the last four years."

"I think it was Jimmy Reisner."

"How could you say that? Look at Ralph's record. He led the team in scoring for two years. He was all-city in 1955 and all-Brooklyn in 1954."

"Jimmy was all-city twice and is considered one of the most dangerous players in the P.S.A.L."

"Hey fellas, why fight? We all know that any soccer player who wears the Maroon and White is automatically a champion. Gus Baart, Noel Drago, Vic White, Joel Goldberg. They're all tops. Mr. Yudell turns out soccer stars year after year, one after another, and all just as good as the rest."

* * * * *

I don't think anybody could match the 'Cinderella' team, our 1953-'54 basketball team. They won the division championship and upset Madison in an inter-divisional playoff. Then they went to Madison Square Garden and dropped highly-rated Erasmus. Only city-champion, Jefferson, could stop them."

"And how about the 1955-'56 team! Paul Kaufman, Barry Epstein, Stuie Boxer, Steve Bernstein, Irv Lieber, and crew sure put up a good show."

"I would like to be around next year. We'll go all the way for sure."

* * * * *

"It's too bad that Coach Sheerin didn't remain around as baseball coach. He sure coached some good ones in his time."

"I remember that 1955 team. It sure is a tough break to lose the borough championship after winning 10 games in a row."

"They had some good players too. Bob Aspromonte, Ralph Gualario, and Sam Munter played together like a real unit."

* * * * *

Five boys were standing in a sullen group. One was wearing knickers and holding a putter. Another was in shorts and wearing a pair of leather gloves. The other three were respectively carrying a .22 single shot rifle, an oversized black ball, and a tennis racket.

After they strolled away, I recognized Joe Lentini of the golf team; Stuart Lieberman of the handball team; Hank Kammerman, captain of the rifle team; star bowler, Jerry Cohen and Dennis O'Keefe, captain of the tennis team.

It happened to me! You too?

Freshman:

I walked into the gym. Before I left it, I had purchased three passes to the swimming pool, two season tickets to the locker room, an admission card to the student lounge, a booklet of late passes, a sweat shirt, a gym suit, a pair of high heeled sneakers, Lafayette mittens, maroon and white knee socks, a picture of the faculty, two bus passes, and a ticket to a football game.

Sophomore:

Did I learn my lesson? Of course not! This time I bought a ticket to the Senior Show, the Senior Boat-Ride and the Senior Prom. How was I to know that only seniors could go?

I was sent into Hygiene. This course was supposed to help mold my character (as if I wasn't enough of a character) and develop a magnetic personality. Before I took this course I was shy, I had poor table manners, and I could not carry on a conversation. Now, having had such a remarkable course, I am shy, I have poor table manners, and I can't carry on a conversation!

Junior:

A new fad developed! What was I to do with my horsehair crinoline? There was only one solution. I folded it into sixteenths and fit it neatly into my locker. When I took it out, it looked like a checkerboard. That didn't matter! I had won the battle of lockers vs. crinolines!

Hygiene again! In First Aid they "broke" and "fractured" every bone I own just to reset them once more. They even had me "drowned" so that they could practice artificial respiration on me. One day we sent scouts out into the wilds of Lafayette's halls, to hunt for a victim. The screams could be heard from any and every part of the building. "Let me go! I'm not sick! I don't need help!!!" Our scouts dragged their victim into the classroom, and after we had treated him for shock, he was in a state of shock!

It was too much of a bother to remove my colored knee socks every day and put on white socks for gym, so I merely wore the latter over the former. That is, until the teacher asked why my ankles were so swollen!

Seniors:

We did calisthenics, daily. These exercises were done, the teacher said, to keep our figures slim, and to make us vigorous and alert. We were certainly not vigorous after such lessons! In fact, we walked around like a group of old ladies! Come to think of it, there is a strong possibility that this was the teacher's real objective!

What would a year in Lafayette be without Hygiene? I never had the chance to find out! This term I was exported by the gymnasium and imported by Drivers' Ed. I learned the basic principles of driving. "Be a courteous driver, and stop when the light turns red!" I seriously believe that this course is a major factor in the many accidents that occur on the highways. Because I was "fortunate" enough to have had the course, I am now blessed with a serious handicap. How can I possibly cuddle up to my favorite beau, in the car, when I know that we might, at any time, crash into that light blue Cadillac in front of us?

We are now faced with the privileges and responsibilities of being active American citizens and we are expected to play an integral part in shaping our nation's destiny. The world awaits that which we have to offer, for we are the leaders, the law makers of the future.

The citizens before us, each in his own way, have created what we now call our American Heritage. This is not our past, but our present and future. It is the pride in being an American and our basic love of freedom. It is the desire to live in the spirit of brotherhood among all. It is the ability to act with an open heart toward all.

The freedom and democratic spirit of choice that our forefathers fought for is ours to cherish and preserve. We realize, of course, the tremendous responsibilities that are ours, and it is only natural to wonder if we are prepared to meet them. Our parents and teachers have used the wealth of their education and experience to guide us. We have the high standards and traditions they have set before us.

The heritage and guidance they have given us provides us with firm faith that we shall not let them down.

May we accomplish the cherished hope that we pass on to our own children The American Heritage, more fully realized.

The Education Loan Plan

A low-cost, pay-as-you-go plan for financing tuition and all other educational costs

Will your tuition bill always come at the "wrong" time when there are a dozen or more other bills competing for your bank balance? Meeting your son's or daughter's tuition costs quarterly or semi-annually is not always easy or convenient.

That is why Manufacturers Trust Company, through its Education Loan Plan, offers a student's family the opportunity to pay tuition costs (Private Schools, Preparatory, Vocational or other Specialized Schools, Colleges or Universities) on a pay-as-you-go basis.

You can now arrange for a Personal Loan which will permit you to pay for a full year's tuition in cash, and re-pay the loan in 12 convenient monthly installments.

If you have savings, keep them. Once used, the chances are you'll never put the money back. There'll always be some good reason for spending it. Your only cost is $4.25 per $100, including life insurance.

The life insurance feature is an important consideration because it means that if anything should happen to you, the borrower — a student's father, for example — the insurance would cover the unpaid balance of the loan.

You are cordially invited to apply for an Education Loan at any one of our 112 convenient offices throughout Greater New York. Look in the telephone book for addresses, or call HAnover 2-1100.

OUR LOAN SERVICE IS ALWAYS PROMPT,
OUR RATES ARE LOW

GIRLS LOVE THE IVY LEAGUE LOOK

(A prize of $15 will be paid for any article printed in this space on the subject "How the Ivy League Look in Men's Clothes has Changed department and bettered manners". About 250 words are required). Open to any senior year male student. Come in or send your essay to ALLEY'S, 86th St. & Bay Pkwy or Fulton St. & Bedford Ave., Bklyn.

The slim-dine look, the Ivy league feeling, THAT'S what the girls go for! An informal interview taken at Brooklyn College, Hunter College, Radio City at high noon and Madison High school, brings these comments from the lovely lassies ... The Ivy league look shows a man at his best ... smooth, natural, neat and a wonderful background for me (I) they said. The impression is that the lack of padding, lack of artificiality lends for less weight in wear, more naturalness in personality. The girls don't go for the caveman. The Ivy Leaguer is quiet, reserved, and worth dating!

He wonder this slim-dine look is growing in popularity with every passing day! Alley's famous London shop is filled with the foremost in styling that a 15,000 mile nationwide tour could bring back! Come on up and convince yourself. Just consider, have you ever shopped in leisure WITHOUT a salesman breathing hot down your neck ... looking at the latest in sport jackets, feeling the wealth of texture in imported socks, trying on the best London rainwear ... all this in leisure ... in comfort ... on a floor set aside specifically for YOU. You'll find it at ALLEY'S - 86th St.

Fellow Seniors:

Although this Legend was not distributed at the customary date, we hope that your enjoyment of it will overshadow your initial disappointment at the delay. Because the reasons have long been public knowledge, we can only add that we sincerely regret the situation.

With our work completed, we wish to give thanks to those whose assistance made our success finally possible:

MR. SAM LEVINE . . . for his everlasting patience, excellent supervision and sense of humor.

MR. JOHN WOHLBACH . . . for his expert advice and help in our art work.

MR. JEROME SHOSTAK . . . for his advice in compiling the literary material for this book.

OUR SENIOR TEACHERS . . . who were understanding in accepting passes for our classes so that we were able to edit this yearbook.

MRS. ROFSKY . . . for her help in typing the material for the book.

We have done our best to make this year's Legend the best that has ever been published, and have tried to carry on the yearbook tradition of a bigger and better book each year. Thank you for your patience and understanding.
